In addition to recreational-educational programs, enough space exists for sports activities. Football, tennis, cycling, bowling, swimming, beach volleyball, and the like are sports that students can play in special fields. They can also participate in cultural programs such as theatre and music.

There are also activities outside the camp, such as: visiting artistic, cultural, historical sites, visiting tourist centres, participating in various sports and entertainment programs, walking in parks, and day trips to surrounding cities.

One day of the week is dedicated to visiting one of Canada's most popular tourist destinations: Niagara Falls, CN Tower, Canada's Wonderland.

These visits are not only recreational but also educational.

Visiting several famous Canadian universities, such as the University of Toronto, the University of Waterloo, and the University of Macmaster, allows students to learn about their future study environment.

Programs

Your child is not alone

One of the biggest benefits of immigration training tours is a parent's ability to accompany the student. This helps students experience a safe and carefree stay. With a 5-year Canadian visa, parents have ample opportunity to explore the Canadian environment. This opportunity allows them to obtain complete and accurate information about the conditions of permanent residence in this country. In addition to educational-cultural tours for teenagers, there are also tours for parents in two types of "recreational-cultural" or "educational-cultural".

Accommodation

A tour facilitator will support students, they will be accommodated in rooms with two beds, and each person will have a separate bed. In case any problem occurs, the dormitory officials are there to offer 24-hour support and care.
